DESCRIPTION

Can Palau is an Ibizan style country house located in a privileged, quiet place with beautiful views, offering comfort and well-being in nature. The property is set on a small hill on private grounds in the heart of the countryside, with the convenience of having the village of San Jose with its vibrant cafe culture in close proximity.

The house has been carefully restored to retain its original charm and has a real bohemian chic feel, with each room having its own unique style and character. The eclectic ambience is artfully combined with modern luxury to ensure your every need is met. Spacious living areas are flooded with natural sunlight and there are plenty of quiet corners to kick back and relax after another perfect Ibiza day. The living and dining areas are served by a modern and well-appointed kitchen, fitted with all of the-of-the-art appliances you would expect.

The property was built in the 18th century and has been lovingly restored maintaining elements and architectural features of Ibizan architecture. Its high ceilings, spacious rooms and thick stone walls ensure the ideal indoor temperature in all seasons.

The traditional style and sophistication blends seamlessly with the sleeping areas, each with their own unique and individual character, making you feel at home the moment you step into Can Palau.

Outside there are terraced gardens with several chill out areas, a magnificent private pool with natural salt purification system, a covered dining area, a BBQ area, a Balinese pavilion with cushions, a fish pond and a natural fountain.
